

Employee Business Travel Reimbursement Management Measures

Chapter I General Provisions

Article 1 To standardize the Institute's employee business travel reimbursement management and ensure the smooth progress of scientific research and business work, these Measures are formulated in accordance with the relevant national financial management regulations and the actual situation of the Institute.

Article 2 These Measures apply to all regular and contracted employees of the Institute who travel on official business.

Article 3 Business travel reimbursement shall follow the principles of "seeking truth from facts, practicing economy, compliant vouchers, and complete approval".

Chapter II Definition and Scope of Reimbursable Expenses

Article 4 The term "business travel reimbursement expenses" as used in these Measures refers to reasonable and necessary expenses incurred by employees during official business trips, specifically including the following categories:

(I) Accommodation expenses: Refers to room charges and related ancillary expenses incurred during the business trip at hotels, guesthouses, and other lodging facilities. Accommodation expense reimbursement shall be based on the formal bill (Hotel Folio) provided by the hotel or lodging institution. Room charges and reasonable ancillary expenses within the hotel (such as in-hotel dining, parking fees, network service fees, etc.) shall be combined and included in the accommodation expense reimbursement. The total accommodation expenses shall not exceed the corresponding position-level accommodation standard cap.

(II) Transport expenses: Refers to local transport expenses and inter-city transport expenses incurred during the business trip for official activities. Local transport expenses include costs generated by taking taxis, ride-hailing (such as Uber, Lyft, etc.), public transport, etc.; inter-city transport expenses include costs of airplanes, trains, long-distance buses, etc. Local transport expense reimbursement shall be based on electronic trip sheets or electronic receipts provided by platforms, and the reimbursement scope is limited to reasonable round-trip transport expenses between the residence and official activity locations.

(III) Meal expenses: Refers to working meal expenses and reasonable business entertainment expenses incurred during the business trip for official needs. Working meal expenses shall be executed according to the corresponding position-level standards; business entertainment must be approved in advance by the department head.

(IV) Other expenses: Refers to other reasonable expenses such as communication fees, material printing fees, visa fees, insurance fees, etc. incurred during the business trip for official needs, reimbursed with valid vouchers.

Article 5 The following expenses are not within the reimbursement scope:

1. Personal consumption and entertainment expenses;
2. Traffic fines, excess baggage fees, etc. incurred due to personal reasons;
3. Expenses generated by unapproved additional itineraries;

Chapter III Reimbursement Process

Article 6 Business travel reimbursement shall be executed according to the following standard process:

(I) Submit reimbursement materials: The traveler shall, within ten working days after the conclusion of the business trip, submit the completed reimbursement form and related vouchers and supporting materials to the department. Reimbursement materials include but are not limited to: reimbursement application form, original vouchers, business trip approval form, itinerary, research work records, etc.

(II) Department head review: The department head shall review the authenticity and reasonableness of the reimbursement materials, focusing on verifying whether the business trip purpose is true, whether the expense expenditure is reasonable, and whether the vouchers are complete and compliant. After approval, sign on the reimbursement form to confirm.

(III) Finance department re-verification: The finance department shall re-verify the compliance of the reimbursement materials, focusing on verifying the validity of vouchers, the accuracy of amounts, and the implementation of expense standards. After re-verification, handle the reimbursement accounting procedures.

(IV) Reimbursement payment arrival: After the finance department completes re-verification, the reimbursement amount shall be remitted to the bank account designated by the traveler within fifteen working days.

Article 7 If reimbursement materials are incomplete or do not meet requirements, the finance department has the right to return them and request supplementation. The traveler shall complete the materials within five working days after receiving the return notice.

Chapter IV Voucher Information Requirements

Article 8 Vouchers submitted for reimbursement shall contain the following core information:

(I) Time information: The voucher shall clearly indicate the date and specific time of the occurrence of the expense, so as to check against the business trip itinerary.

(II) Location information: The voucher shall indicate the city where the expense occurred, for consistency verification with the approved city scope of the business trip. Specific addresses and venue names below the city level shall be borne by the original voucher, and only the city level needs to be extracted in the reimbursement summary table, but the original voucher must be submitted together with the reimbursement materials.

(III) Amount information: The voucher shall indicate the expense amount, currency, and payment method.

(IV) Expense category: The voucher shall reflect the category of the expense (such as transport, accommodation, meals, etc.).

Article 9 All reimbursement vouchers shall be original electronic vouchers or printouts, ensuring complete and clearly legible information. Specific venue names, addresses, invoice numbers, and other detailed information on the vouchers shall be subject to the original vouchers, and need not be repeated in the reimbursement summary, but the original vouchers must be submitted together with the reimbursement materials.

Chapter V Multi-person Reimbursement Provisions

Article 10 When multiple persons travel together for the same official activity, reimbursement shall be handled according to the following principles:

(I) Shared expenses: Expenses jointly incurred by multiple persons (such as jointly taking transport, jointly dining, etc.) may generally be reimbursed uniformly by one person, or may be reimbursed separately by each participant for their respective shares. The specific method shall be determined by the department head based on actual circumstances.

(II) Accommodation expenses: During multi-person business trips, accommodation expenses shall be reimbursed separately by each person according to their respective stay situation and corresponding position-level standards.

(III) Transport expenses: Expenses for jointly taking the same transport may be reimbursed uniformly by one person, and the names of fellow travelers shall be indicated in the reimbursement; or may be reimbursed separately after equal apportionment according to the actual number of passengers.

(IV) Total control: The total reimbursement amount for multiple persons shall not exceed the combined cap of the corresponding position-level standards of all participants.

Chapter VI Authenticity Supporting Materials

Article 11 To prove the authenticity of the business trip and reimbursement matters, travelers shall, in addition to submitting original vouchers, also provide the following supporting materials. These materials may be submitted separately or uniformly:

(I) Business trip approval form: A business trip application approval form signed by the department head and the responsible institute leader, indicating the business trip purpose, time, city, and personnel.

(II) Itinerary: A detailed business trip itinerary indicating daily activity content, time, and location, consistent with the actual business trip situation.

(III) Other auxiliary materials: Such as photos, business cards, exchange results, etc., which may be submitted as auxiliary supporting materials.

Article 12 The above supporting materials shall be consistent with the vouchers in terms of time, location, personnel, etc., forming a complete chain of evidence. The finance department shall conduct cross-verification of various materials during review.

Chapter VII Acceptable Invoice Requirements

Article 13 The following types of invoices are accepted by the Institute:

(I) Electronic Receipt: Electronic trip sheets and electronic receipts generated through ride-hailing platforms (such as Uber, Lyft, etc.), online booking platforms, etc., shall contain complete trip information, cost breakdown, and payment records. Electronic receipts may be submitted after printing, or electronic versions or image versions may be submitted.

(II) Hotel Folio: Formal accommodation bills provided by hotels, containing check-in and check-out dates, room charge breakdown, ancillary expense breakdown, and total amount.

(III) Merchant Receipt: Formal consumption receipts or invoices provided by restaurants, shops, etc., containing consumption date, merchant name, consumption breakdown, and amount.

(IV) Transport tickets: Airline electronic ticket itineraries, train tickets, public transport recharge vouchers, etc.

(V) Other formal vouchers: Visa fee receipts, insurance invoices, communication bills, and other formal vouchers related to the business trip.

Article 14 The following vouchers are not accepted:

1. Handwritten vouchers or handwritten receipts;
2. Vouchers with incomplete information or that are illegible;
3. Vouchers where the consumption date, amount, or merchant information cannot be identified;
4. Altered or forged vouchers;
5. Vouchers generated by non-official activities.

Article 15 For vouchers settled in foreign currency, the exchange rate conversion standard adopted shall be indicated in the reimbursement. The exchange rate may refer to the foreign exchange rate published by the People's Bank of China on the reimbursement date, or the bank settlement exchange rate at the time of actual payment.

Chapter VIII Supplementary Provisions

Article 16 These Measures shall be interpreted and revised by the Institute Finance Department.

Article 17 These Measures shall take effect from the date of issuance. Previous relevant regulations inconsistent with these Measures shall be governed by these Measures.

Article 18 Each research group and project team may formulate supplementary implementation rules based on these Measures in combination with specific project management needs, which shall be executed after filing with the Finance Department.

China XX Research Institute Finance Department January 15, 2024