

Minutes of Strategic Partnership Business Negotiation Meeting

Document No.: MM-2025-WDC-001 Meeting Time: October 9–12, 2025 Meeting Location: Washington, D.C.
Recorded by: Wang Jianguo

I. Meeting Overview

From October 9 to October 12, 2025, Boyuan Technology Group and Vertex Data Systems held a four-day strategic partnership business negotiation meeting in Washington, D.C., United States. Our team was led by Chen Zhiyuan, General Manager of the Marketing Department, with Liu Sihan, Manager of the Technical R&D Department, and Wang Jianguo, Manager of the Business Cooperation Department participating. The partner team was led by John Mitchell, Vice President of Business Development, with Sarah Thompson, Director of Technical Partnerships, David Chen, Senior Project Manager, and Emily Rodriguez, Business Operations Manager participating. A total of seven attendees from both sides participated in all meeting sessions.

II. Daily Meeting Contents and Discussion Results

(A) Day 1 (October 9, 2025)

In the morning, both parties conducted formal introductions and confirmed the four-day meeting agenda. Subsequently, the framework discussion on the Strategic Cooperation Agreement (Round 1) commenced. Both parties exchanged views on core framework clauses such as cooperation scope, cooperation term, rights, and obligations. In the afternoon, Liu Sihan, Sarah Thompson, and David Chen conducted preliminary communication on the technical integration solution, clarifying the technical architecture and interface capabilities of both parties' existing systems, and launched the first round of technical discussions on data interoperability standards.

(B) Day 2 (October 10, 2025)

In the morning, both parties conducted the second round of article-by-article consultations on the Strategic Cooperation Agreement. Key discussion topics included:

1. Cooperation Scope and Boundaries: Both parties agreed to focus the cooperation scope on three major areas: data platform interconnection, joint solution development, and North American market synergy promotion;
2. Intellectual Property Ownership: Both parties conducted in-depth discussions on the ownership and usage authorization of technical achievements and intellectual property generated during cooperation, and preliminarily reached consensus on sharing according to contribution proportion;
3. Confidentiality Clauses: Both parties confirmed the scope, term, and liability for breach of information confidentiality, and agreed to add a non-compete supplementary clause in the formal agreement;
4. Cooperation Term: Both parties preliminarily agreed to a strategic cooperation term of three years, renewable upon mutual consultation after expiration.

In the afternoon, the technical teams conducted detailed discussions on the integration solution, confirming interface technical standards and communication protocols. Subsequently, Chen Zhiyuan and John Mitchell conducted a preliminary demonstration on the North America joint promotion plan.

(C) Day 3 (October 11, 2025)

In the morning, both parties conducted in-depth discussions on the North America joint promotion plan. Main results included:

1. Target customer groups and priority promotion regions were determined;
2. Promotion methods such as joint brand display and joint participation in industry exhibitions were discussed;
3. A preliminary 2026 annual market promotion resource allocation plan was drafted.

In the afternoon, both parties confirmed the cooperation roadmap and key milestones, and discussed regular communication mechanisms and issue coordination procedures. Both parties agreed to establish a quarterly cooperation progress meeting system, to be held alternately at each party's location; and to establish a joint working group, with each party designating one liaison officer responsible for daily coordination.

(D) Day 4 (October 12, 2025)

In the morning, both parties conducted supplementary discussions on outstanding items from the previous three days and summarized the overall results of the four-day meeting. Subsequently, both parties formally signed the "Strategic Partnership Negotiation Meeting Memorandum," confirming all discussion results and subsequent work arrangements.

Both parties agreed on the subsequent work timetable: complete the final review of the Strategic Cooperation Agreement by the end of October 2025; formally sign the agreement by mid-November 2025; and conduct the online technical integration solution review in the first week of November 2025.

III. Lunch Arrangement Explanation

During the four days of the meeting (October 9–12), participants from both parties shared lunch daily. Lunches were of a business entertainment nature. During meals, both parties continued business exchanges, conducting informal discussions on extended topics from the day's meeting agenda. Relevant expenses were borne by our side and shall be reimbursed according to actual costs based on the company's business entertainment reimbursement regulations.

IV. Main Results Summary

- (1) Both parties signed one "Strategic Partnership Negotiation Meeting Memorandum";
- (2) One "Strategic Cooperation Agreement (Revised Draft)" was produced, to be finalized after internal review by both parties;
- (3) One "Technical Integration Solution Preliminary Document" was produced;
- (4) One "North America Joint Promotion Plan Preliminary Framework" was produced;
- (5) Regular communication mechanisms and liaison arrangements were determined.

V. Follow-Up Action Items

No.	Action Item	Responsible Person	Deadline
1	Complete final draft revision of Strategic Cooperation Agreement	Chen Zhiyuan, John Mitchell	October 31, 2025
2	Complete detailed design of technical integration solution	Liu Sihan, Sarah Thompson	November 7, 2025
3	Organize online technical integration solution review	Liu Sihan	First week of November 2025

4	Refine North America market promotion plan	Wang Jianguo, Emily Rodriguez	November 15, 2025
5	Formally sign Strategic Cooperation Agreement	Chen Zhiyuan, John Mitchell	Mid-November 2025

Recorded by: Wang Jianguo Reviewed by: Chen Zhiyuan Date: October 15, 2025