IV. Activity Background and Purpose

During the third quarter of 2025, the Technical Operations, Marketing, and Product R&D departments conducted an in-depth three-month cross-departmental collaboration around the "Intelligent Retail Terminal System Upgrade Project." The project involved multiple critical tasks including system architecture refactoring, user interface optimization, market data integration, and channel deployment, with a total of 10 core personnel from the three departments engaged.

As of the end of September, all milestone targets for Q3 have been completed on schedule. System stability metrics have met the expected goals, and user satisfaction scores have increased by 12% compared to the previous quarter.

Purpose of This Application: To summarize collaboration experiences, enhance team cohesion, and prepare for the coordination of personnel during the Q4 sprint phase, we hereby apply to organize this cross-departmental team building meal.

V. Activity Agenda

This team building meal will be conducted in a relaxed team dining format. The main agenda includes:

- a. Review of Q3 collaboration achievements and experience sharing;
- b. Department representatives briefly introducing Q4 key work plans;

- c. Free exchange among team members to enhance cross-departmental understanding and trust;
- d. Confirmation of the Q4 project kick-off meeting schedule.

VI. Budget

The estimated per capita cost of this meal shall be kept within a reasonable range. The total cost shall be borne uniformly by the Technical Operations Department and charged against the department's annual team building budget. The specific expenses shall be based on the actual compliant receipts.
