IV. Event Background & Purpose

During Q3 2025, the company's Technical Operations, Marketing, and Product R&D departments carried out an intensive three-month cross-departmental collaboration around the "Intelligent Retail Terminal System Upgrade Project." This project involved multiple critical tasks including system architecture refactoring, user interface optimization, market data integration, and channel deployment, with a total of 10 core personnel committed across the three departments.

As of the end of September, all Q3 milestone targets have been completed on schedule, system stability indicators have met expected goals, and user satisfaction scores have increased by 12% compared to the previous quarter. To summarize collaboration experiences, enhance team cohesion, and prepare for the coordination efforts required in the Q4 sprint phase, we hereby apply to organize this cross-departmental team building lunch.

V. Event Agenda

This team building lunch will be conducted in a casual dining format. The main agenda includes:

1. Review and experience sharing of Q3 collaboration achievements;
2. Department representatives briefly introducing Q4 key work plans;
3. Free networking among team members to enhance cross-departmental understanding and trust;
4. Confirmation of the Q4 project kick-off meeting schedule.

VI. Budget

The per capita cost of this lunch is expected to remain within a reasonable range. Total expenses will be borne centrally by the Technical Operations Department and charged against the department's annual team building budget. Specific costs will be based on actual compliant invoices received.
