Notice on the Preparation of the 2013 Spring Client Reception

To all Department Heads:

To strengthen cooperative relationships with core clients and showcase the company's annual innovation achievements, the company's management has decided to hold the 2013 Spring Client Reception in Sherrybury in May 2013. Relevant preparation matters are hereby notified as follows:

I. Event Background

Since launching the "Spring Client Reception" brand event in 2009, BrightPath Solutions Inc. has successfully held four consecutive editions. This event aims to build an in-depth communication platform between the company and key clients, enhance mutual trust, and promote subsequent business cooperation. This year's reception will continue the company's consistent high-standard hospitality, striving to demonstrate professionalism and care in event setup, dining arrangements, and guest experience.

II. Event Date and Location

The event is scheduled to take place in early May 2013 in Sherrybury, the city where the company is headquartered. Specific dates and venue information will be communicated separately by the Event Preparation Team. Department Heads must ensure that relevant personnel's schedules do not conflict with this event during the activity period.

III. Event Scale and Guest Scope

This reception is expected to invite approximately 60 to 80 guests, encompassing senior executive representatives from the company's major cooperative clients, industry partner representatives, and selected invited industry experts. Internal attendees include management representatives, all members of the Marketing Department, and relevant business department heads.

IV. Preparation Work Assignments

To ensure smooth event execution, the preparation tasks and responsible departments at each stage are hereby clarified as follows:

(A) Event Planning and Proposal Development

Led by the Marketing Department, responsible for compiling the overall event planning proposal, theme determination, and process design. The planning proposal must be submitted for approval by the Vice President in charge before April 10, 2013.

(B) Venue Booking and Setup

The administrative coordination position of the Marketing Department will handle venue booking matters and formulate on-site setup proposals according to the event theme. On-site setup must include but not be limited to: main stage backdrop design, registration area arrangement, dining area decoration, and guest rest area layout. The overall style of on-site setup should reflect the company's brand positioning — professional, modern, and warm.

(C) Dining and Materials Procurement

The logistics support team of the Marketing Department will be responsible for catering supplier selection and coordination, as well as procurement of materials required for the event. Procurement scope includes flower decorations, table ornaments, atmosphere creation items, etc. All procurement matters must comply with the company's "Procurement Management Policy" and "Reimbursement Management Policy" regulations, with complete documentation and approval records retained.

(D) Guest Invitation and Reception

The client relations team of the Marketing Department will be responsible for drafting the guest list, distributing invitation letters, and reception arrangements on the event day. Guest invitation letters must be sent before April 15, 2013.

(E) Event Promotion and Materials Preparation

The brand communications team of the Marketing Department will be responsible for designing and producing event-related promotional materials, including promotional posters, guest handbooks, and the company's annual achievements display materials.
