2013 Spring Client Reception - Flowers and Decorations Procurement Plan

Date of Preparation: April 5, 2013 Preparing Department: Marketing Department, Event Preparation Team Approval Status: Approved by Marketing Director

I. Procurement Background and Purpose

In accordance with the company's "Notice on the Preparation of the 2013 Spring Client Reception" (issued on March 28, 2013), this year's client reception will be held in early May 2013 in Sherrybury. To create an upscale, warm, and professional event atmosphere and fully demonstrate the company's brand image, the Event Preparation Team proposes to conduct a unified procurement of flowers and decorations required for the reception venue.

On-site setup is an important component of the overall client reception experience. Drawing on experience from previous events, carefully designed floral decorations can effectively elevate the venue's ambiance and leave a lasting impression on guests. This procurement will be systematically planned around the event theme to ensure that the floral style is coordinated and unified with the overall visual design of the event.

II. Procurement Requirements Overview

This procurement primarily covers the following three categories of materials:

(A) Fresh Flowers

Fresh flower decorations are the core element of this event's on-site setup and will cover the following areas:

1. Main Stage Area: One set of large-scale floral arrangements is required for both sides of the stage and front-stage decoration. The flower colors should coordinate with the event's main visual theme, conveying a solemn yet warm atmosphere. Premium rose bouquets (red and white combination) are proposed as the main floral material, presented with elegant vases.
2. Registration Area: Two medium-sized floral displays are needed, placed on both sides of the registration desk to create a favorable first impression for guests. Sunflower and lavender combination bouquets are proposed, with bright colors and a relaxed atmosphere.
3. Guest Dining Tables: Eight to ten tables are expected, each requiring a table centerpiece. Table flower designs should be refined and not obstruct sightlines. Large orchid potted plants are proposed as the main floral element, supplemented with small accessories to enhance the overall table quality.

4. Rest Area and Corridors: Scattered floral decorations are needed, including large bouquets paired with greenery to create a natural, comfortable environment. Seasonal wildflower bouquets (with eucalyptus leaf pairing) are proposed for decoration.

(B) Decorative Vessels

To complement the flower display effect, corresponding vases and decorative vessels need to be procured:

1. Handcrafted Ceramic Vases: For floral displays in the main stage and registration areas, requiring unique glazed texture and style matching the event's tone. Estimated quantity: 2 pieces.
2. Gilded Glass Candle Holder Set: For atmosphere creation at dining tables and rest areas, with different sizes used in combination to enhance spatial layering. Estimated quantity: 1 set (including large, medium, and small sizes).

(C) Wall Decorations

To enrich the visual layers of the venue, plant-themed decorative paintings are planned for the guest corridors and rest area walls:

1. Framed Botanical Theme Prints (A4 size): Style referencing classic botanical illustrations, with exquisite frames echoing the floral theme. Estimated quantity: 2 pieces.

III. Procurement Quantities and Budget Estimates

Based on the event scale (approximately 60 to 80 expected guests) and venue setup requirements, the detailed quantity planning for this procurement is as follows:

No.	Category	Description	Planned Qty	Usage Area	Notes
1	Fresh Flowers	Premium rose bouquet (red & white), with elegant vase	3 sets	Main stage, VIP reception	Approx. 24 stems per set
2	Fresh Flowers	Sunflower and lavender bouquet	3 sets	Registration area, entrance	Approx. 10 stems per set

7	Wall Decoration	Framed botanical theme print (A4 size)	2 pieces	Guest corridors, rest area	Classic botanical illustration style

IV. Supplier Selection

This procurement will select reputable floral and decoration suppliers in Sherrybury and surrounding areas. Supplier selection criteria include: product quality, delivery timeliness, past cooperation experience, and price reasonableness. Specific supplier information will be determined after procurement approval is granted, and complete transaction records and invoices will be retained throughout the procurement process.

V. Procurement Schedule

To ensure the freshness of flowers and the quality of decorations, the procurement schedule is as follows:

Before April 10, 2013: Complete procurement plan approval Before April 15, 2013: Complete supplier confirmation and order placement April 28-30, 2013: Flower and decoration delivery and inspection Before May 1, 2013: Complete on-site setup of all materials

VI. Quality Inspection Requirements

All delivered materials must be inspected on-site by designated personnel from the Event Preparation Team. Inspection contents include: flower freshness, vessel integrity, and decoration appearance quality. Materials may only be used for on-site setup after passing inspection. If quality issues are found, replacement matters must be communicated with the supplier on the day of delivery.

VII. Expense Reimbursement Instructions

This procurement expense will be processed for reimbursement in accordance with the company's reimbursement management system after the event concludes. Procurement personnel must properly safeguard all procurement invoices and payment vouchers to ensure complete and clear documentation. For reimbursement, the procurement plan (this document), approval documents, procurement invoices, and relevant payment vouchers must be submitted.
